

Build a city of compassion

Ending homelessness takes the support of a community. Print and cut out the house outlines below, write one way you can help people experiencing homelessness this year. Stick these up in your classroom to create a city of compassion.

